About Amma Carpets

Amma Carpets is a fourth-generation handmade carpet manufacturing enterprise rooted in the historic carpet-weaving city of Gwalior, Madhya Pradesh. With a legacy spanning over a century, the business has grown from a family workshop into a respected name in India's handloom and handicraft sector — carrying forward an unbroken tradition of artisanal excellence.

At Amma Carpets, every product is a testament to the enduring value of handwork. Specialising exclusively in 100% hand-knotted rugs, the company works in close partnership with skilled artisans and weavers who are the true custodians of this craft. From the initial design concept to the final packaged product, Amma Carpets maintains rigorous standards at every stage — ensuring that each carpet that leaves the workshop is a piece of lasting quality and beauty.

The company serves both domestic buyers and international markets, offering a diverse catalogue that includes traditional designs rooted in India's rich textile heritage as well as contemporary patterns suited to modern interior aesthetics. A key differentiator for Amma Carpets is its ability to offer full customisation — adapting sizes, colours, designs, and specifications to the precise requirements of individual buyers and trade clients.

The Challenge

Like many heritage craft enterprises, Amma Carpets has navigated a complex set of challenges in building a sustainable and competitive business in the modern marketplace:

Craft & Production

- ◆ Extremely labour-intensive hand-knotting requiring years of artisan training

Market & Business

- ◆ Limited visibility in international trade channels

- ◆ Sustaining quality consistency across large or custom orders
- ◆ Retaining skilled master weavers in a shifting labour market
- ◆ Managing multi-step production from dyeing through to finishing

- ◆ Communicating the premium value of handmade products to buyers
- ◆ Managing customisation workflows across diverse client requirements
- ◆ Competing with machine-made alternatives on price perception

The Solution — An Integrated Approach

Amma Carpets has built its competitive strength on a vertically integrated, quality-first model that covers every dimension of handmade carpet production and trade.

End-to-End In-House Production

Unlike many businesses that outsource portions of the production process, Amma Carpets manages the complete value chain internally. The full production sequence — designing, yarn dyeing, loom preparation, hand-knotting, washing, finishing, quality inspection, and packaging — is executed under one roof with dedicated oversight at every stage. This integrated model ensures consistent quality, faster turnaround on custom orders, and direct accountability to buyers.

Mastery of the Hand-Knotting Craft

The company's core product — the 100% hand-knotted rug — demands exceptional skill and patience. Amma Carpets has built long-term relationships with experienced artisans, many of whom represent their own multi-generational weaving families. This network of skilled craftspeople enables the company to produce carpets of exceptional knot density, design precision, and durability — attributes that distinguish hand-knotted rugs in the global luxury flooring market.

Comprehensive Customisation Capability

Recognising that buyers — whether retail consumers or trade clients — increasingly demand personalised solutions, Amma Carpets has developed a robust customisation infrastructure. Clients can specify precise dimensions, colour palettes, design motifs, pile heights, and material preferences. This flexibility has been instrumental in winning long-term buyer relationships and repeat business from both domestic interior designers and international importers.

Quality Assurance at Every Stage

A hallmark of Amma Carpets' operations is its systematic approach to quality control. Post-knotting, each carpet undergoes washing and finishing processes that bring out the vibrancy of dyes and the evenness of the pile surface. A dedicated quality inspection step ensures that no product leaves the facility unless it meets the company's exacting standards for weave, colour fastness, dimensional accuracy, and finish.

The Production Journey

 Design Original and custom patterns crafted for traditional and contemporary markets.	 Dyeing High-quality wool and natural fibres dyed to precise, lasting colour specifications.	 Hand-Knotting Skilled artisans knot each rug by hand — the most labour-intensive and skilled stage.
 Washing Professional washing reveals full colour depth and softens pile texture.	 Finishing Trimming, binding, and surface treatment for a perfect, market-ready product.	 QC & Packaging Rigorous inspection followed by careful packaging for domestic or export delivery.

“Every carpet we make carries four generations of knowledge in each knot. Our artisans do not simply weave threads — they weave time, heritage, and devotion into something that will outlast all of us.”

— Amma Carpets, Gwalior

The Way Forward

Building on four generations of craft heritage and a proven business model, Amma Carpets is well positioned for the next phase of growth. The company's strategic priorities include:

- ◆ Expanding presence on international B2B trade portals to reach importers and wholesalers across Europe, North America, and the Middle East.

- ◆ Strengthening digital marketing through rich visual content — weaving process videos, artisan stories, and product showcases — that communicates the premium value of handmade carpets.
- ◆ Introducing new product lines including flatweave and kilim-inspired designs to diversify the catalogue while retaining the hand-craft ethos.
- ◆ Pursuing certification under India's Handloom Mark and seeking GI recognition for Gwalior's hand-knotted carpet tradition.
- ◆ Deepening customisation capabilities with a dedicated design studio offering 3D visualisations for interior designers and retail buyers.
- ◆ Building structured artisan training programmes to onboard younger weavers and ensure long-term production capacity and heritage continuity.
