About Anuradha Trading Company

Anuradha Trading Company is a Gwalior-based manufacturer, supplier, and order fulfillment specialist dedicated entirely to the art of handmade carpets. Rooted in the weaving heritage of Madhya Pradesh, the company has built its reputation on one powerful promise: delivering beautifully crafted, 100% handmade woollen carpets that carry the soul of traditional Indian craftsmanship to buyers across the country and beyond.

Operating at the intersection of traditional craft and modern trade, Anuradha Trading Company functions both as a manufacturer — working directly with skilled weavers — and as a reliable supply chain partner for buyers, wholesalers, and retailers who demand consistent quality, timely order fulfillment, and flexible terms. Whether an order is for a single custom piece or a bulk commercial requirement, the company brings the same level of care, precision, and commitment to every transaction.

The company's product portfolio centres on handmade woollen carpets — a category that demands intensive skill, high-quality raw materials, and rigorous quality oversight. By maintaining close working relationships with artisan weavers and exercising control over the production process, Anuradha Trading Company guarantees the authenticity and quality that discerning buyers expect from handmade floor coverings.

The Challenge

The handmade carpet trade presents unique challenges that test even the most experienced businesses. Anuradha Trading Company has successfully navigated several of these:

Production Challenges

Supply & Trade Challenges

The Solution

Anuradha Trading Company has built its success on a practical, buyer-focused approach that combines manufacturing capability with strong supply chain management.

Manufacturer & Supplier in One

By combining manufacturing and supply functions within a single operation, Anuradha Trading Company eliminates the inefficiencies and quality risks of multi-party sourcing. Buyers deal directly with the producer — receiving competitive pricing, transparent production timelines, and a single point of accountability from order placement to delivery.

100% Handmade Woollen Carpets

Every carpet produced by Anuradha Trading Company is hand-crafted by skilled weavers using quality wool and natural fibres. This commitment to authentic handmade production is non-negotiable — it defines the company's products and differentiates them in a market increasingly dominated by mechanised alternatives. Buyers receive genuine artisanal quality backed by real craft expertise.

Custom Order Capability

Anuradha Trading Company's order fulfillment model is built around flexibility. Buyers can specify custom sizes, colour schemes, design patterns, and pile specifications — with the company's team working closely with weavers to deliver exactly what is required. This capability to accommodate customised orders has been central to building long-term buyer relationships and earning consistent repeat business.

Reliable Supply & Fulfillment

As a dedicated supplier, Anuradha Trading Company understands that reliability is as important as quality. The company maintains production planning discipline and clear communication with buyers to ensure agreed timelines are met. This dependability — rare in the artisan handicraft sector — is a core element of the company's market reputation and its ability to serve wholesale buyers and export clients alike.

What Sets Us Apart

Impact & Community Value

Anuradha Trading Company's work carries significance that extends well beyond its own business growth. By sustaining consistent demand for handmade woollen carpets, the company directly supports the livelihoods of skilled weavers and artisan families in and around Gwalior. In a craft sector where mechanisation and imported alternatives constantly threaten traditional employment, a business like Anuradha Trading Company plays an essential role in keeping artisan communities economically active and culturally connected to their heritage.

The company also contributes to the broader promotion of Gwalior as a centre of handmade carpet excellence — reinforcing the city's reputation in domestic and international trade circles, and helping preserve a craft tradition that has defined the region for generations. Every order fulfilled is not just a business transaction; it is an act of cultural preservation.

The Way Forward

With a strong foundation as a trusted manufacturer and supplier of handmade woollen carpets, Anuradha Trading Company is focused on building the next chapter of its growth:

- ▶ Registering on leading international B2B trade portals to access wholesale and retail buyers across global markets.
- ▶ Investing in professional product photography and a comprehensive digital catalogue for online buyers.
- ▶ Expanding the weaver network to increase production capacity and reduce lead times on bulk custom orders.
- ▶ Developing an exclusive in-house design library of traditional and contemporary carpet patterns for direct buyer selection.
- ▶ Strengthening export packaging and logistics partnerships to ensure safe, timely international delivery.
- ▶ Pursuing Handloom Mark certification and trade body memberships to enhance credibility with premium buyers.
